

Developing Your Research Skills with Genealogy.com

Beth McIntyre, Pioneer Room volunteer and genealogy researcher of 30+ years, has assembled a shortlist of articles from Genealogy.com perfect for the beginning genealogist. For a full list of articles to develop your research skills, check out Genealogy.com.

Click on a link to learn more.

Why do genealogy?

Starting out in genealogy research

Why bother? The value of documentation in family history research

Other danger zones mistaken identity

Determining accuracy of information

Location names and boundaries

Name and word spelling

The importance of names and naming patterns

Types of libraries

Making sense of the U.S. Census

Get nosy with Aunt Rosie: Example questions for oral histories

